As the hot summer sun beat down on the practice field, the Raider football team began pre-season drill work. They began with a meeting called by Coach Gulbis on July 13, 1973. Three days later, the season officially opened. The new coach daily presented to us his concept of a successful team in the form of drills, techniques, etc.

As the season continued, we learned the "T" offense as well as several defenses. Our first was a scrimmage with Lake High School. After two more of these, we started our season. It was very hard to keep high spirits from one game to another, but the student body was behind us, and we felt confident that each game could be "the one." The 0-10 season was not very satisfying to the team or coaches, Gulbis, Scherger and Balsizer.

The Raiders concluded the season by resolving to make the '74 season a winning a. Coach Gulbis showed many moods throughout the season. b. Raider defender Mark Allison slows down the runner as the rest of the team pursues. c. As Dave Lucius gives the handoff, Mark Allison attempts to out maneuver the Clyde defense. d. Eager to help his team, Freshman Ed Mailer sprints on the field with great enthusiasm. e. The freshman defensive line attempts to block the Genoa punt with great success. f. The freshman offensive line shows determination in setting the backs free for another touchdown.

Coach Does Best to Boost Morale of Team

a. Carla Lyte, reigning as the 1973-74 homecoming queen, gazes hopefully for a touchdown. b. Fans cheer on Chester Boice and Scott Miller at the finals of the marshmallow eating contest. c. Spirit is shown by the fans as the football team makes it's way onto the field. d. Artistic ability is shown by Paula Allen as she helps the juniors to a first-place win in the decorating contest for homecoming. e. The student's selection for homecoming court was queen, Carla Lyte; senior, Linda Feehan; junior, Jill Miller; sophomore, Crystal Lash; and freshman, Julie Abel. f. The part of Gertrude Honker is beautifully portrayed by Eddie Myers in the freshman skit.

Exciting Homecoming Activities Demonstrate School Spirit

The student council sponsored a very successful homecoming. The theme was "Everything is Beautiful". During the week each class had their own Pep Day, with Friday being the day to honor teachers, football players, and cross country-men. With the exception of Wednesday, every night was full of Activity for any student who wanted to support his class and school. There were races, eating contests, decorating and skits in which students could compete. Friday climaxed the weeks activities. The assembly was held in the morning. The queen candidates made their speeches and wished the football team good luck. After this, the finals of the marshmallow eating contest were held, with the winner being Scott Miller. Friday night, a spirited crowd of spectators gave their support to the football team. Saturday night officially ended homecoming week with a dance being held. There was a feeling of satisfaction when everything was over, but the whole week was enjoyed by everyone who partici-

a. Hard work was followed by the enjoyment of traveling with the team and giving their support. b. As the band practices for their next show, Mr. Lehman gives instructions on the new routine. c. Its "up and over" the shoulders with the bass drum as Bruce Snyder prepares for half time. d. To be a majorette takes considerable concentration as shown by Lorraine Davidson. e. In concert formation, Beth Murray brings out the low notes to the song, "Strawberry Fields."

1973 Marchers Accomplish Goals Under New Directors

The 1973 Marching season found the Raider band under the new directions of Mr. Lehman and his assistant Mr. O'Brien.

This year the band members had many things to work for. Each week, one squad would receive the Hustle Award. This meant that what squad showed the most hustle at practices during that particular week. Another award given was the Fish Award. This was awarded to the band member who made the most obvious mistake during a performance. The "Marcher of the Week" Trophy was given to the band member who received the most votes from his fellow band members after each game.

The football team could always depend on the band members for encouragement especially at away games where attendance was weak.

The last performance was the highlight of the season particularly for the senior. For their last show the seniors planned the halftime program using "Ecology" as their theme.

Victorious Harriers Run on #### to Another Successful Season

a. The form of a good runner is displayed by Gregg Cline as he heads into the finishing chute during another victory. b. An all out effort leaves Gary Smith breathless after a close victory over Clyde. c. Strategy and inspiration is provided by Coach Cline in the team huddle. d. Making a bid for another victory, Jeff Kline rounds the last turn and pushes for the chute. 3. After a fine race, Matt Wise finds an orange refreshing. f. Hill running style is demonstrated by Gerald Gabel at Green Hills.

Underclassmen Become Slave Drivers

Once again the senior class sponsored a slave day. And once again it was successful. Unlike other years, however, the seniors were able to sell individually or in groups, which brought about a better percent of participation for those involved.

As usual the morning announcement said classes would be run as normal, with no disruptions. And as usual, they did not. What teacher could possibly run a normal class with five to ten zany seniors acting up? After all, slavery is unconstitutional!

a. The bidding goes back and forth, higher and higher, as Larry Lentz questions Mr. Doty's auctioning ability. b. Slave owners make use of their purchase as Rex Warden, Kathy French, and Chris Sours sweep the gym floor. c. As the juniors watch the seniors being auctioned off, they think about how "Slave Day" will be next year. d. "Sold!" for four dollars to Mr. Geary.

Student Council Meets Success Through Projects, Student Exchange

The 1973-74 Student Council began its very successful year with a great home-coming week of activities. The chosen theme "Everything Is Beautiful" was carried out splendidly in the decorating contest. Also a tricycle race and marshmallow eating contest were held. These activities were successful due to the great student participation.

The third annual Student Council Workshop was held February 26. Following slides of high school life, presentations were given by Mr. Phil Simon and Miss Peg Irwin, speakers from the Ohio Association of Student Councils. A very interesting night was had by all.

Besides these programs were the normal workload of assembly planning and fund raising activities. The council sponsored a successful St. Patty's Day dance along with basketball competition between classes.

The most successful project of the year was the student exchange held by schools within the SLL. Many students were involved in the exchange program which proved to be worthwhile for all.

a. A break in a student council meeting finds committees hard at work as Cindy Gillespie confers with advisor Miss Ianiro about a newsgram from OASC. b. Student Council president Kathy French leads a workshop discussion for those students interested in running for president for next year, c. A very successful St. Patty's Day Dance was sponsored by the council with Johnny Katz from WAWR as disc jockey as Ron Conley admits Matt Wise to the dance, d. A group discussion on the Student Council Constitution and Election procedures is led by Miss Steele at the workshop, e. Mary Spittler and Rose DeVanna discuss a motion on the floor prior to voting.

National Honor Society Inducts New Members

a. Newly selected member Jeff Kline receives his pin and membership card from Miss Steele. b. Susan Adams presents Connie Nieset with a memento which recognizes the tapping of new NHS member. c. Symbolizing her pledge to NHS, Linda Morris places her candle among the others as Cathy Spoores looks on. d. Juniors Jill Miller, Linda Morris, and Beth Murray become official members by attaching pins. e. Advisor Miss Janet Steele graciously accepts the trophy presented by Garry Crawford as a representative of the senior members. f. President Garry Crawford begins the induction ceremonies with the lighting of his candle.

Music Talents Displayed

a. Music by the Triple Trio is an added attraction of the choir. b. Special singing groups give Tony Graber a way to show his talent on the guitar as Judy Foos sings along c. The evidence of much hard work could be seen in the accomplishments of Becky Rausher and Ed Clark, members of the Mixed Ensemble. d. Full concentration and alertness are important to Nora Hernandez and Shellie Hossler e. Being an accompanist, such as Bruce Auer, requires lots of practice and patience.

Cheerleaders Bring Home Trophy

Hot summer evenings found the reserve and varsity cheerleaders gathered together sweating out practices in order to prepare for the upcoming sports seasons. These practices proved to be valuable for the varsity squad who later, in the third week in August, attended the Blue Mountain Sports Camp in the Pocono Mountains, and returned home with a trophy. Pride swelled within all members. Not only did they claim the award for Most Improved Squad, but also the Spirit Award, won on the last night of competition. A truly happy squad of six hard working girls came home to present the first trophy ever earned by girls. Freshman cheerleading tryouts were held in the fall of the year. Assisting the freshmen were reserve and varsity cheerleaders. All displayed new uniforms during both football and basketball seasons.

The main job of the cheerleader is to raise school spirit. Pep rallies were held nearly every Friday during the football season. Though it was a frustrating fall, the cheerleaders managed to maintain spirit and Raider Pride.

Once a girl is elected to be a cheerleader, she must dedicate herself from the first day of summer until the last day of school. It is truly a full time job.

a. A reserve basket brings excitement to Rita Gilmore as she jumps for joy. b. Seniors Deb Mitchell and Kathy French execute a mount to the words "Stand up and cheer." c. Cheerleaders, Deb Tahy and Tammy Stephenson, inspire the football team to charge up for a victory. d. # Young Grapplers Gain Experience and Victories

Although Coach Yount believed this year was going to be one of rebuilding. his team proved to be one of the strongest in the wrestling history of Lakota with an impressive dual meet record of 8-2. With only two seniors, Gordon Bloom and Jim Bond, the young, inexperienced wrestlers joined together as a team which proved to be the dominating factor for this season. Four of the wrestlers, Gordon Bloom, Gary Smith, Joe Vetell and Ron Conley, did go to the districts, which was a fine accomplishment as Bloom was the only senior with the others being underclassmen. With these three returning next year, along with the other varsity lettermen, the wrestling season should have a favorable outlook for the coming school year.

The J. Varsity team also compiled a strong 5-1 record which points toward a strong backing for any open positions in the Varsity line up next year.

a. Gary Smith prepares his opponent for a takedown on his way to another pin. b. The team waits to congratulate Jerry Bond after a well fought victory. c. Timo Pietilaimen works for a takedown and two points in his junior varsity victory. d. Riding out his opponent, Gordy Bloom awaits the first chance for a pin. e. Joe Vetell shows the strain of wrestling after an all-out performance. f. Jeff Wyant grabs a leg for a reversal during his heavy weight victory.

Preparation, Practice, Performance

a. With a little slide of the trombone. Frank Strausbaugh plays his part in "Make Me Smile." b. The pep band was on hand at all home basketball games to lend their support and entertainment. c. Mr. O'Brien, lab band director, enthusiastically leads another rehearsal. d. Roger Sams strums a little tune on the guitar in preparation for lab band rehearsal. e. Smooth, clear notes come from the bell of Becky Graber's tenor saxaphone.

Girls GAA Basketball Team Has Satisfying Season

a. Moving in for a lay-up shot is Kathy Madden as Penny Saalman waits for a possible rebound. b. It's all hands as Rindi James reaches in for the ball against Elmwood defenders. c. Maneuvering around her opponents, Janis Butzier drives through to pick up two more points. d. Frustration takes place while the team takes a few pointers from coach, Mrs. Nancy Haton. e. Donna Smelser takes a shot from the open corner as other team members rush in for the rebound.

Preparation, Participation, Pride Pace Raider Attack

a. Larry Lentz fires as the Eastwood player scores around the bunt. b. "Ball Four!" and Garry Crawford takes his base, c. On the final pitch Jerry Bond takes a cut at the ball. d. Taking to the dust and sliding into homebase, Bob Enright out maneuvers his Eastwood opponent. e. A close put out at first base is made by freshman, Mark Perkey.

Students Apply Themselves to Their Work in Many Ways

Students have many classes to apply themselves physically. In several of these classes, they learn how to use their hands and develop finger dexterity in their work.

In Art, they learned how to design, use perspective, graphics, water colors, and many other useful techniques.

This year, the band helped to activate school spirit with their merry music. The areas offered in this instrumental area are the marching band, concert band, pep band and the ensembles. Band members attended many rehearsals, performed at concerts and contests and played at the pep rallies and basketball games.

Home Economics is a laboratoryoriented class. It is divided into two main sections. In cooking, they learn the four basic food groups, how to prepare meals and how to plan, buy and serve a complete meal. Fabric choice, basic pattern skills, mending, altering and wardrobe planning are among the many things learned in the sewing area of Home Ec.

Industrial Arts is a course designed for those who enjoy working with wood. They learn how to safely operate the wood lathe, welders, torches, drill presses and various hand tools.

As a result of these skills learned this year, many students have better enabled themselves for future occupations.

a. Trombone playing requires much concentration as shown by Al Halfhill. b. Talent is put to good use as illustrated by Deb Tahy in Art Class. c. In Home Ec., Adelia Smith stretches her imagination by adding variations to a cookie recipe. d. As Rick Henry demonstrates the process of skinning a coon, he is assisted by Jeff Michaels and Dan Harden. e. To complete her art work, Deb Stump uses a steady hand.

How and when to use the right tools is shown by Lynn Brickner as she drives the final nail in her magazine rack.

Home Economics Not for Girls . . .

Shop Not Only for Boys

Lakota High had a different view this year. The guys were interested in becoming homemakers and the girls were learning how to use tools and other devices for themselves. Some of the things the girls have learned involved quite intensive skill. They have learned how to weld, use power tools and have made several useful projects. One complaint of the girls was that they felt uneasy in class, being that it was only the second year girls were allowed to take shop. The girls say that the class could be improved by having more girls interested in taking Industrial Arts.

In Home Economics the guys learned about bachelor living and how to prepare many specialities. Some things they made were pies, cakes, cookies and even such preparations for meals as potatoes and beans. The guys said they have learned a lot about doing things for themselves.

Now that we are more than half way through our high school years, our goals are no longer far away dreams, but reality.

Our junior year has been one of hard work along with good times. We received first place in decorating for homecoming and with our class skit. The prom was our goal for the year with the theme, "An Old Fashioned Love Song" and money seemed to be a necessity. The class therefore sold candy and class dues were collected.

The Class of '75 took a wide variety of courses this year with many members of our class at Vanguard.

By working diligently together our class has proved its ability and potential for the years to come.

a. An old-fashioned way of punishment is demonstrated by Susan Sams in American History class. b. Creativeness and originality are important to the art projects of Jill Miller. c. A smile comes to Valerie French in Journalism class as they discuss the benefits of cartoons in the school newspaper.

Varied Activities Involve a Spirited Junior Class

Sophomores Prepare for Their Futures

The class of "76" came to school this fall ready and willing to begin a new year full of books, teachers, friends and extra-curricular activities. During Homecoming week we worked hard to receive third place in the decorating contest. The Sophomores elected Crystal Lash for 1973 homecoming attendant. Her escort was Tim Striff.

To help increase our treasury we sold candy bars and collected class dues.

This year was filled with many decisions. Class rings were chosen in October and received in May. Plans for the future were made when we decided whether to go to Vanguard for vocational training or to stay at Lakota. This whole year we have learned from our experiences, some good and some bad.

Concentration Plays an Important Role for Freshmen

a. Here at Lakota, Pat Hicks finds you can study most anywhere, even in the halls. b. Exact measures are a must in Industrial Arts, and Alvin Chancey makes sure his arc is in the right place.

The newcomers to Lakota High School were the class of '77. In the fall of the year they elected class officers and set goals to be strived for duing the year. Much was accomplished at class meetings under the able leadership of president, Jim Knisley. The officers and advisors did a tremendous job leading the freshmen through what would be their first and most trying year here.

The freshman became involved in many sports and activities throughout the year. They chose Julie Abel to represent the freshman class as homecoming attendant. Though they put forth a great effort in the decorating contest, as usual the freshman class ended up with a fourth place and a Thank You.

Class advisors Mr. Scherger and Mr. Kerns helped the freshman struggle through their first year. The year proved to be a learning experience for all involved.

The knowledge and experience attained by the Class of '77 will help to guide them through their remaining years in high school. Hopefully, each day had proved a valuable lesson to them all.

who needs more power plants anyhow!

You do.

If you want to use the products you own today and will own tomorrow. Most are powered by electric energy.

If you want to work. Every job requires the use of electricity in some form.

If you want to live in a quality environment. Most pollution control equipment runs on electric power.

You need power plants . . . for all your wants.
